(4) Suggestions for Teachers:

Many students opting for M.A. English have teaching career in mind. The present course is designed to acquaint them with the basic issues in English language and literature teaching in the Indian context and to equip them with necessary abilities to become competent teachers of English. The teachers are expected to make the students aware that behind every teaching activity there is some principle at work. Students learn best by doing things on their own; hence their active involvement should be ensured through seminars, group discussions, presentations, etc. The teacher should play the role of a facilitator and monitor the activities of the students.

(4) Suggestions for Teachers:

It is important that teachers introduce students to the socio-political and historical background of the prescribed period, the tendencies and trends dominant in the period, the stylistic features of the prescribed authors and the major characteristics of their works. Such information provides students with background and necessary contexts. Teachers can encourage students to read original texts prescribed, literary histories and critical works. Exercises into literary pieces, practical criticism and analytical discussions may be conducted in the classroom for effective understanding. Teachers can make use of ICT methods to create interest and promote literary sensibility in students.

Paper 3.4: Drama in English

(1) Objectives

- 1) To introduce students to major movements related to drama, works and dramatists through study of selected texts
- 2) To create literary sensibility for appreciation in students and expose them to artistic and innovative use of language by writers and to various worldviews
- 3) To instil values and develop human concern in students through exposure to literary texts
- 4) To enhance literary and linguistic competence of students

(2) Allotment of Credits: One credit is equal to 15 clock hours and every semester is allotted four credits (60 clock hours).

(3) Course Contents

Semester- III

Unit-I: Sophocles: Antigone (12 Clock Hours)

Unit-II: Christopher Marlowe: Doctor Faustus (12 Clock Hours)

Unit-III: William Shakespeare: Hamlet (18 Clock Hours)

Unit-IV: Ben Jonson: Volpone (15 Clock Hours)

Paper 4.4: Drama in English

Semester IV

Unit-I: Anton Chekhov: Cherry Orchard (15 Clock Hours)

Unit-II: Luigi Pirandello: Six Characters in Search of an Author (15 Clock Hours)

Unit-III: John Osborne: Look back in Anger (15 Clock Hours)

Unit-IV: Edward Albee: The Zoo Story (15 Clock Hours)

(4) Suggestions for Teachers

It is important that teachers introduce students to the socio-political and historical background of the prescribed period, the tendencies and trends dominant in the period, the stylistic features of the prescribed authors and the major characteristics of their works. Such information provides students with background and necessary contexts. Teachers can encourage students to read original texts prescribed, literary histories and critical works. Exercises into literary pieces, practical criticism and analytical discussions may be conducted in the classroom for effective understanding. Teachers can make use of ICT methods to create interest and promote literary sensibility in students.

- ii) Definitions of Pragmatics
- iii) Semantics vs. Pragmatics
- iv) Component vs. Perspective
- v) Principles vs. rules

Unit-II- Principles of Pragmatics 15 Clock Hours

- i) The Cooperative Principle and its Maxims
- ii) The Politeness Principle and its Maxims
- iii) Trade off Relationship between Cooperative Principle and Politeness Principle
- iv) Relevance Theory of Sperber and Wilson
- v) The Concept of 'Face', Positive and Negative Face

Unit-III- Important Concepts in Pragmatics 15 Clock Hours

A) Implicature vs Explicature

B) Context and Conversation

- (i) Utterer and Interpreter
- (ii) The Mental World
- (iii) The Social World
- (iv) The Physical World

C) Deixis

- i) Time Deixis
- ii) Place Deixis
- iii) Person Deixis
- iv) Discourse Deixis
- v) Social Deixis

Unit-IV- Literary Pragmatics 15 Clock Hours

- i) Introduction: Author and Reader
- ii) Textual Mechanisms: Reference, Tense, Discourse
- iii) Voice and Point of view

iv) Reading as a Pragmatic Act

(4) Suggestions for Teachers:

The present course is designed to acquaint the students with the basic issues in Semantics and Pragmatics. The teachers are expected to make the students aware of the subtle distinctions of meaning in using different words and the role of context in expressing and interpreting meaning. The insights gained from the study of various aspects of semantics and pragmatics ultimately aim at equipping them with necessary abilities to become competent users of language. Students learn best by doing things on their own; hence their active involvement should be ensured through presentations, and practical work on all the sections of the syllabus.

All other essays are prescribed from Simon During's edited book, The Cultural Studies Reader. (Second Edition) Routledge, New York, 1993.

(4) Suggestions for Teachers

This a burgeoning field of study and covers formidable range of socio-political, economic, cultural, ecological, technological and historical issues. In the world of globalization (the world of interconnectedness and mobility) every aspect of human life has been undergoing drastic changes. Cultural studies helps to map and reassess these shifting terrains and to formulate the view of students towards the world systems. Teachers can give relevant information to students and orient them towards multidisciplinary approach. They can encourage students to read original texts prescribed, histories and critical works and develop the skill of knowing multiple contexts that texts of cultural studies excite. Exercises, practical criticism and analytical discussions may be conducted in the classroom for effective understanding. Teachers can make use of ICT methods to create interest and promote interest for such study in students.

(4) Suggestions for Teachers:

It is important that teachers introduce students to the socio-political and historical background of the prescribed period, the tendencies and trends dominant in the period, the stylistic features of the prescribed authors and the major characteristics of their works. Such information provides students with background and necessary contexts. Teachers can encourage students to read original texts prescribed, literary histories and critical works. Exercises into literary pieces, practical criticism and analytical discussions may be conducted in the classroom for effective understanding. Teachers can make use of ICT methods to create interest and promote literary sensibility in students.

Paper- 3. 9: Research Methodology

(1)Objectives

1. To introduce the students to the concept of research
2. To enable them to understand the stages of research
3. To familiarize the learners to the procedures involved in research
4. To sensitize them to the requirements of cohesion and coherence in continuous composition.
5. To highlight the significance of systematic planning and execution of research activity.
6. To give the students practice in the use of various tools and techniques of research.
7. To prepare them for undertaking research.

(2) Allotment of Credits: One credit is equal to 15 clock hours and every semester is allotted four credits (60 clock hours).

(3) Course Content

Semester-III

Unit-I- Meaning and Nature of Research (15 Clock Hours)

What is research?
Objectives of Research
The fundamentals of Research
Characteristics of Research
Types of research
Qualities of a Good Researcher

Unit II: Materials and Tools of Research (15 Clock Hours)

Primary and Secondary sources Books, Anthologies, Biographies, Thesauruses, Encyclopedia, Conference proceedings, Unpublished theses, Newspaper articles, Journals, e-journals, Monographs, Translations, Web references, Library catalogues, Literature Resource Center, Govt. publications, Special libraries, Advanced study centers, Virtual libraries, Web search engines, CDs, DVDs etc.

Unit-III: Research in Literature and Language (15 Clock Hours)

Literary research and research in other Disciplines
Literary research-Interpretative, Theoretical, Biographical etc
Research methods in Linguistics
Research methods in Literature
How research in language is different from research in literature
Emerging areas of research in language and literature
Use of literary and linguistic theories in research

Unit-IV: Methods and Techniques of Research (15 Clock Hours)

Research Methods vs. Research Methodology

Variants in Methodology

Types of methods: Statistical, Sampling, Applied, Case study, Survey, Interpretative, Experimentation, Interviews, Questionnaire etc

Evaluation of different methods: Historic, Comparative, Descriptive, Scientific

Paper- 4. 9: Research Methodology

Semester-IV

Unit-I: Steps in Research Process (A) (15 Clock Hours)

Choosing a topic

Formulating the Research Problem

Defining aims and objectives

Introduction to research methodology

Defining aims and objectives

Deciding the Scope and Limitations

Developing Hypothesis

Unit-II: Steps in Research Process (B) (15 Clock Hours)

Extensive Literature Review

Preparing research Proposal

Data Collection

Analysis/interpretation of Data

Generalization and Interpretation of Data

Preparing Chapter wise Design

Unit-III: Presentation of Research (15 Clock Hours)

Format of the Thesis

Language of the thesis

Logical Writing

Language and style of the thesis

Introductions and conclusions

Presentation of findings

Suggestions for future research

Writing a Short Research Paper

Unit-IV:

a) Norms and Conventions (08 Clock Hours)

Quotations and Acknowledging the Sources
Footnotes and Endnotes, Citation
Arranging bibliography and webliography
Guarding Against Plagiarism
Using Standard Style sheets
Roles of Computer & Internet in Research

b) Practical work (07 Clock Hours)

The students should present research proposal/s with a focus on bibliographies, hypothesis, objectives, rationale etc. The teacher is expected to get the practical work done during teaching hours.

(4) Suggestions for Teachers

Since research is a do-it-yourself activity, the teacher may initially explain the basic concepts regarding research working interactively with the students. For example, this may be done by floating an idea and eliciting their responses regarding relevant aspects, thus guiding and monitoring the discussion, giving the students an opportunity to think and arrive at answers independently. The students may be given practical assignments related to research procedure. The teacher should work with the students and help them choose the topic, frame the title and the hypothesis, and in general supervise the research activity to be carried out by the students.
